Mize Student Featured on MPB TV Poetry Out Loud Contest Airs April 17

JACKSON, Miss. – Mississippi Public Broadcasting airs the Poetry Out Loud state finals on April 17 at 6 p.m. on MPB TV. The recitation contest features Mize Attendance Center 11th grader Laura Sullivan.

“I had a real good experience with the competition,” said Sullivan. “I met a lot of friendly people from different parts of the state.”

Sullivan is the daughter of Paul and Sheila Sullivan of Mize, Miss.

“MPB’s statewide broadcasting network is the perfect platform to promote Mississippi students and their dedication to learning,” said Jay Woods, Acting Executive Director of MPB.

The 2011 Poetry Out Loud competition took place on Thursday, March 11 in the Mississippi Public Broadcasting auditorium and was sponsored by the Mississippi Arts Commission. Poetry Out Loud encourages the nation’s youth to learn about poetry through recitation and memorization. The program helps students to build self-confidence, master public speaking skills, and learn about their literary heritage.
